

Keeper of the Light

Hear Her Story, Embrace History

Sally Snowman lives on a small one acre island in Boston Harbor, tending to one of the oldest lighthouses in the country. Boston Light on Little Brewster Island is the oldest lighthouse site in the country and Sally Snowman is the 70th lighthousekeeper. Join the United States Coast Guard, the Department of Conservation and Recreation, and the Hull Public Library for a FREE public program. Come out and learn why the British destroyed the lighthouse and what it takes to keep the beacon shining in the future.

February 11th, 2010

7:00pm-8:00pm

Mary Jeanette Murray Bathhouse

Call 781-740-1605 x 202

