

Hull Public Library Services Online

Library users can obtain online library services in two ways.

1. Visit the Old Colony Library Network website at www.ocln.org. The library user will need to have valid ocln library card. The library card will have the user's barcode. Each user has a default pin of ocln. Some people have changed their pin.

The OCLN website will allow the user to access the following services: Overdrive (which provides electronic books and audiobooks), Newsbank (local newspapers), Mass State Wide Databases (which provides information on a variety of subjects including art, science, health, history and many more subjects).

2. Visit the Hull Public Library website at www.hullpubliclibrary.org. The library user will also need a valid OCLN library card to use these services.

The Hull Public Library website provides access to the following databases: A to Z World Foods, Global World Warrior, A to Z World Maps, Mango Languages (learn to speak a new language) and Hoopla (which provides access to movies, music, ebooks, audiobooks and more).

3. All OCLN items are checked out until April 27th. Please keep items checked out to you until this date or when the library reopens. Please do not return them in the library book drops. Thank you.
